A Heart of Stone

The Bible Lesson at a Glance

Peter comes to Jesus with a question: “How many times shall I forgive my brother when he sins against me?” In His answer, Jesus tells the story of the unforgiving servant. Jesus wants Peter to see that there is no limit to God’s forgiveness. The foundation of God’s kingdom is grace that forgives freely. When we experience God’s forgiveness, we want to be like Him, and God’s forgiveness flows through us to others.

This is a lesson about grace.

In His grace God has forgiven us. It is His grace toward us that empowers us to forgive others. When we recognize how much God loves us and forgives us, it is easier for us to forgive others.

Teacher Enrichment

“...The rabbis limited the exercise of forgiveness to three offenses. Peter, carrying out, as he supposed, the teaching of Christ, thought to extend it to seven, the number signifying perfection. But Christ taught that we are never to become weary of forgiving” (Christ’s Object Lessons, p. 243). “...We ourselves owe everything to God’s free grace... Nothing can justify an unforgiving spirit. He who is unmerciful toward others shows that he himself is not a partaker of God’s pardoning grace. In God’s forgiveness the heart of the erring one is drawn close to the great heart of Infinite Love. The tide of divine compassion flows into the sinner’s soul, and from him to the souls of others. The tenderness and mercy that Christ has revealed in His own precious life will be seen in those who become sharers of His grace” (Christ’s Object Lessons, pp. 250, 251).

For what have you been forgiven? How does this knowledge affect your forgiveness toward others?
Welcome
Welcome students at the door and direct them to their seats. Ask them how their week has been. Encourage learners to study their Sabbath School lesson regularly. You may debrief students on the previous lesson to help them see the chronological continuity of the Bible stories from one week to another. Then ask students to share a few things they have learned from the current lesson prior to Sabbath School. Ask: What was the most interesting part of the Bible story? What activity did you find the most helpful? Invite students to share their experiences and/or the handiworks they created for Sabbath School during the week.

Transition into the Readiness Activity of your choice.

LESSON 8

READINESS ACTIVITIES

Select the activity or activities that are most appropriate for your situation.

A

Leader, Forgive Me?
This game is played like Mother, May I? The object is to be the first person to reach the leader. The students line up side by side at the back of the classroom. The leader calls out a command. Before they carry out the command, the students must call out, “Leader, forgive me,” and wait for the leader to say “You are forgiven.” Any student who doesn’t ask or moves before asking must go back to the beginning point. The student who gets to the front of the room first wins.

Sample commands:
- Take two giant steps forward.
- Hop three steps on one foot. Walk backwards four steps.
- Twirl around and take one step forward.
- Take 10 baby steps, etc.

Debriefing
Ask: How did you feel about this game? What happened to you? (Accept responses.) How did this game remind you of God’s forgiveness? (God gives another chance, we need to ask for forgiveness; sometimes it seems like God is not fair, etc.) Say: Let’s say together our power text, Psalm 86:5:

“For You, Lord, are good, and ready to forgive, and abundant in mercy to all those who call upon You” (Psalm 86:5).

Our power point for this week reminds us that:
- God’s forgiveness has no limits.

B

Making Forgiveness Stick
For this game you will need to make a game board with a bull’s-eye (use a large piece of cardboard and draw large concentric circles on it with a marker) or use a dartboard for the target. You will need darts (some with points; some without) OR small balls of clay OR use Velcro attached to a large piece of cardboard as the game board, and knit balls and table tennis balls for throwing. Mark a line on the floor with tape or chalk about five feet away from the game board. Instruct the students to stay behind the line and throw a dart (ball) at the target. When everyone has had a turn or two, debrief.

Debriefing
Ask: Why would the [object] not stick? (no point; too slippery; too smooth) Was the problem with the object or the board? (the object) Say: Sometimes people feel like life is a game of darts. What in this game represents you? Our lesson this week is about forgiveness. What if we feel as though forgiveness doesn’t stick? Say: Let’s say together our power text, Psalm 86:5:

“For You, Lord, are good, and ready to forgive, and abundant in mercy to all those who call upon You” (Psalm 86:5).

Our power point for this week reminds us that:
- God’s forgiveness has no limits.
Fellowship
Allow students to report things that they are pleased or troubled about. Acknowledge any birthdays, special events, or achievements. Give a special, warm greeting to all visitors. Get contact information from the adult who brought them to church. Early in the following week, send a postcard or e-mail letting the visitors know how much you enjoyed having them in your class and that you would like to see them again.

Suggested Songs
“Turn Your Eyes Upon Jesus” (He Is Our Song, no. 45)
“Behold What Manner of Love” (He Is Our Song, no. 42)
“It’s About Grace” (see music on p. 149 of this guide)
“Forgiven and Free” (Praise Time, no. 48)

Mission
Use Adventist Mission for Youth and Adults (go to www.juniorpowerpoints.org and click on MISSION) or another mission report available to you. Using a world map, have the students mark with pushpins the location where the mission story is taking place.

Offering
Say: Just as God forgives us, we are to forgive others. And just as God gives to us, we are to give to others.

Prayer
Accept prayer requests and reports on answers. Say: In today’s prayer circle we will use the word “pray” as our outline. P stands for Praise, R stands for Repent, A stands for Ask, and Y stands for “Yes, I love You, Lord.” Have students volunteer for the letter that stands for what they want to pray.
Close with a prayer for the students’ joys and sorrows, for the birthday and other special event celebrants, as well as for the visitors.

LESSON 8

BIBLE LESSON

Introducing the Bible Story

The Net Kids
(Note: The Net Kids are an imaginative way to introduce the Bible story. If you prefer not to use this activity, read over the script yourself and introduce the lesson concept in your own words.)

Introduce the Net Kids to your class.
Say: The Net Kids are an international group of children ages 11-14 who communicate regularly through e-mail. Emiko and Darren met in a teen Christian chat room and found out that they were both Seventh-day Adventists. They then created a chat room for Adventist juniors and teens, and the other four joined. They get together as often as they can via the Internet.

Ulla: 11-year-old girl, Sweden
Ivan: 12-year-old boy, Russia
Tendai: 12-year-old boy, Zimbabwe
Ana: 13-year-old girl, U.S.A.
Darren: 13-year-old boy, Australia
Emiko: 14-year-old girl, Japan

Arrange the students at desks, or at chairs turned around as desks if no desks are available. Have them tap as they read their part, to simulate typing at a computer keyboard.

Make three copies of the Net Kids script found on page 150 of this guide. Distribute to the students you have selected as early as possible. Allow practice time before using this activity.

Present the skit.

Debriefing
Ask: Do you remember the text “Whatever you want men to do to you, do also to them” (Matthew 7:12)? How could that text be used with this story?
Say: Remember our power point:

God’s forgiveness has no limits.

Experiencing the Story

Divide the class into five groups. Say: Today you will read the Bible story in your groups. It is found in Matthew 18:21-35. As you read it think of making this story into a movie. When making a movie, the screenwriters give the subject what is called a treatment, which means looking at the story from the different perspectives of the people involved and choosing which perspective to portray. Each group will present the story from a different perspective—with a different treatment. Group one—the king; group two—the unforgiving servant; group three—the man who was thrown into jail by the unforgiving servant; group four—the king’s servants who saw and informed the king. Group five—God, who extends grace to all.

Take some time to decide how to present your screenplay to the class. Be prepared to explain why your main character acts as he does.

Debriefing
Ask: Did presenting and seeing the story from the different characters’ perspectives help you to understand them better? Explain. How does thinking about others’ perspective help us when we interact with them? (It makes us more sympathetic and compassionate.) How does God view people who need to be forgiven? (He loves them and is always ready to forgive.)
Say: Let’s repeat together our power point:

God’s forgiveness has no limits.

Accommodation for students with special needs:
Guide students with special needs who experience difficulty with this activity to groups that offer them assistance in participation. Let them contribute according to their strengths and skills so that they may feel comfortable engaging and participating.

YOU NEED:
- three scripts (p. 150)
- Bibles
- paper
- pens/pencils
Exploring the Bible

Say: I’m going to read you a description of a Bible character, and I want you to guess the identity. Read the first description. If no one can guess the identity of the person, give the clue in parentheses ( ). If no one can guess after the clue, give the Bible text and have the students look up the answer. The answers are in brackets [ ].

1. He asked for forgiveness, but did the same thing over again. (pyramids) Exodus 10:16-20. [Pharaoh]
2. He was related by adoption to a powerful man. (staff) Exodus 2:10. [Moses]
3. She asked someone to forgive her husband. (200 loaves of bread) 1 Samuel 25:23-25. [Abigail]
4. He tried to kill his son’s best friend. (spear) 1 Samuel 19:10. [Saul]
6. He wanted to kill his brother. (twin) Genesis 27:41. [Esau]
7. He forgot how God had revealed his dream. (image) Daniel 3:24. [Nebuchadnezzar]
9. Jesus forgave her many times. (hair) Mark 16:9. [Mary Magdalene]
10. He wanted to be forgiven more than he wanted to be healed. (mat) Matthew 9:1, 2. [paralytic]

Debriefing
Ask: What do all of these people have in common? (they received forgiveness) How did the people feel about being forgiven? Say: Let’s repeat our power text, Psalm 86:5:

“For You, Lord, are good, and ready to forgive, And abundant in mercy to all those who call upon You” (Psalm 86:5).

The power point reminds us that:

God’s forgiveness has no limits.

Little Person, Big Person

Say: Think of one thing little children do that annoys you. For instance: they leave toys in your way; they get into your stuff. Now think of one other super-annoying thing and write it on a slip of paper. (Small church: each person fills out two or three slips.) Now on another slip of paper, write one thing that people your age might do that they shouldn’t do. (Small church: each person fills out two or three slips.) Ask the students to put their papers in the appropriate bag. At least nine slips are needed in each bag. (Large church: Place the bags on opposite sides of the room so students can move from one to the other.)

After everyone has finished, call two volunteers up front to draw slips from the “little person” bag. Instruct them to read the responses on the slips of paper when you signal them, filling in the blanks in the reading below. Encourage everyone else to close their eyes and think of a small child they know and really like while you read the following. (As you read, try to sound more and more frustrated.)

First Scenario
I knew it was going to be a bad day the moment the little guy came padding by the chair where I was trying to do my homework. Right before my eyes he [read Little Person (LP) slip 1]. I couldn’t believe it! It reminded me of the time he [LP slip 2]. Talk about gross! The next minute he was [LP slip 3]. And if that was not enough, no sooner had I settled him quietly with a book to look at when he [LP slip 4]. This kid has no idea how to behave. First he [LP slip 5]. Then he [LP slip 6]. And in quick succession he managed to [LP slip 7], [LP slip 8], and [LP slip 9]. Now, I’m a normal person. I never cry. But that child had me crying like a baby. It was a total meltdown.

Debriefing
Say: We were each thinking about a different child. Did anyone find that it was impossible to feel angry about the child you knew even though he or she was doing all this? (Chances are that many will agree.) Why were you not angry? (It was funny; the child was cute; he or she was only a child, etc.) Those of us who became angry, why do you think we felt that way? (The child was annoying; we didn’t want to be bothered; we wanted to be left alone, etc.)

Second Scenario
Instruct the volunteers to draw from the “big person” bag.

My mom has to go to work early, so she wakes us all up before 7:00 a.m. I can’t believe it! Everything goes downhill from there.
I (read Big Person [BP] slip 1). Thinking about how to cover that up, I (BP slip 2). Wow! Now I’m really in trouble! But the next minute I am (BP slip 3). I’m sitting in class thinking about changing my name when (BP slip 4). That does it! Then the principal asks who (BP slip 5). It will be the other guy. But nobody would buy that excuse, not after I (BP slip 6) and (BP slip 7) and (BP slip 8). It was as if I wanted everyone in my life to hate me. I was wondering if I would ever be forgiven when I (BP slip 9). Now it’s all over for me. Is there any hope for me?

Debriefing
Ask: Have you ever felt like everyone was angry at you? Even God? How does that feel? (miserable, not good, etc.) So you know how this person feels when he or she says “Is there any hope for me?” Well, is there? (Yes.) What have you learned today that you could tell this person? (Accept responses.) In what ways is the Big Person of the second scenario like the Little Person in the first scenario? (They both do things that they shouldn’t; they both need forgiveness.) How does God respond to Little Person? How does He respond to Big Person? (He loves them both.) Say: Let’s say together our power text, Psalm 86:5:

“For You, Lord, are good, and ready to forgive, And abundant in mercy to all those who call upon You” (Psalm 86:5).

Let’s repeat the power point, which reminds us that:

God’s forgiveness has no limits.
Prayer and closing comments:
Say: When you are tempted to hold a grudge, remember:

God’s forgiveness has no limits.

He will give you the power to forgive someone who hurt you. Then you can forgive that person, knowing that God forgives you. Pray for the students to this end. Pray that God will reveal His love to each of them, and that they will share His love with their neighbor-in-need.

Reminder to parents:
Say: Check out the student Bible study guide to find Parents’ Pages for your use in family worship, or however you wish to use them to spiritually guide your children. You may listen to the podcast of the lesson online at www.juniorpowerpoints.org/podcast.php?channel=1.

Coming up next week:
Say: Mary anoints Jesus. God’s grace and love can flow through us to others.
Have you ever wondered what forgiveness means and how much you need to forgive? The disciples wondered about such things too, so Jesus answered their question by telling them a parable.

A rich and powerful king began to collect on the debts that were owed to him by other people. In the process he discovered that one of his servants owed him 10,000 talents of gold. That was more money than the servant could earn in his entire lifetime. There was no way this servant could ever pay back what he owed. The servant was brought before the king and was told that until the debt was paid back, he along with his children and his wife would be thrown in jail. The man fell down and begged the king, saying, “Master, have patience with me, and I will pay you all” (Matthew 18:26). Of course, this wasn’t even possible for the man to do, so the king decided to do something wonderful! He forgave the servant and let him go free!

If you were the servant, wouldn’t you want to live the rest of your life in grateful service to the one who treated you with such undeserved kindness? Well, you would think so, but unfortunately the servant hadn’t learned the value of forgiveness. As soon as he left the king’s court, he remembered that one of his coworkers owed him a few dollars. Filled with anger, the servant approached his coworker in a fury, demanding that he should pay what he owed. The coworker fell to his knees begging for mercy and asked for time to repay his debt. But the servant would not listen. He had his coworker thrown into jail until the debt could be paid. When the king heard about this, he could hardly believe his ears. How could someone who had been forgiven so much not have mercy on someone who owed him so little? The king took that ungrateful servant and threw him in jail till he should pay all that he owed. The story reminds us that if we desire God’s forgiveness, we too need to forgive those who have wronged us (see Matthew 18:35).

Do you know that like the servant in the story, each of us owes a debt that we can never pay back? Everyone has sinned by doing things that hurt people’s feelings and ultimately hurt God. Lying, being unkind, or gossiping are only a few of the hurtful things that bring sorrow to others and to Jesus. The Bible says that the penalty (or cost) for sin is death. But Jesus came to pay the debt of your sins and mine. By dying on the cross, he paid our debt in full. Now we can enjoy the free gift of salvation that God offers to us. We can live with Jesus forever.

But how can we forgive someone who has really wronged us? Yes, it’s true that we are human, and sometimes things may seem hard for us to do. However, God promises to give us a tender heart we need to really forgive others. When we realize what Jesus has done for us, we will be so thankful for the eternal life He offers us that we will find it much easier to forgive others.

Peter, one of the disciples, asked Jesus many times we should forgive someone. Peter thought that seven times would be more than enough. But Jesus said to him, “not seven times but seventy times seven” (see Matthew 18:21, 22). The answer to that math problem is a big number. The point is that we would lose count of forgiving someone that many times. So what should we do? The Bible tells us that no matter how many times we have forgiven someone, we should go to that person and talk to them kindly about the problem. Sometimes we might need to ask them to forgive us, too.

True freedom comes from accepting God’s forgiveness and sharing that forgiveness with others. Today you may accept the challenge to “be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God in Christ forgave you” (Ephesians 4:32).
