- "Mother Naomi," Ruth replied, "please don't say that. I have made up my _____. I won't go back. Wherever you are going, I am going. Wherever you find to stay, I will stay with you. Your relatives are going to be my relatives." Ruth paused a moment, choosing her next words very carefully.
- They had come to Moab to start a new life. But instead of life, she had found death. First Elimelech had died. She was left alone with her two sons, Mahlon & Kilion. She didn't feel like returning to Judah without her husband, so she had let her sons marry Ruth & Orpah, the Moabite girls they had chosen.

- [Wednesday's lesson] Imagine that you are Ruth & you are sitting with Naomi by the side of the road. She has just told you that you should go back to your own _____ with Orpah so that you can live with your own family, or marry one of your countrymen & have children.
- Ruth & Orpah had tears in their eyes, but she looked carefully at Naomi to be really sure she meant it. Then she quickly gave her a goodbye _____, picked up her bundle, turned, & headed back the way they had come.
- Naomi looked thoughtfully at the younger woman. She sensed that God was calling Ruth. In spite of all the pain of losing her husband & sons, God was using all of this to _____ another precious person to Himself.
- "Ruth & Orpah, we need to talk," she began. "I've been thinking." Naomi started to explain her thoughts to the two young women, who had eagerly put down their burdens & sat beside her, welcoming the _____.
- Finally the day arrived. The three _____ started down the road toward the Jordan River, each with her own set of thoughts.
- The high-pitched wailing of the mourners went on & on. Naomi pushed back her black _____ & wiped her face. Since she had moved across the Jordan River to Moab with her husband & her two small sons, this was the third funeral for her family.
- [Friday's lesson] Write a _____ from Ruth to her family in Moab describing how God continued to take care of her through His lovingkindness.
- She wouldn't urge Ruth to go back home anymore. Slowly Naomi picked up her bag & headed for the _____. Ruth followed her, & the two made their way together toward Bethlehem, & whatever God had in store for them.
