- David listened. He knew Joab was right. After a few minutes he washed his face & went down to the main street, where he praised the hundreds of soldiers who were marching past. Soon the whole city pulsated with _____ of victory.
- "I can't believe the king is sobbing at a time like this," Joab complained. "His son was full of treachery. The king should be grateful that our soldiers saved the _____ & defeated his son's gang of traitors."
- So the king sought a solution to their conflict, & ended up _____ the land equally between them. David's influence continued to spread throughout the nation until unity was largely restored.
- "What are you talking about?" another shot back, jabbing his _____ right in the other person's face. "He's the best thing that's ever happened to us."
- Although he made many mistakes, he also learned to be a _____. He knew that doing one's best to get along with others is an important part of following God.
- Joab rushed up the _____ to the king's apartment, stomped inside, & scolded, "You've got to go down & greet your returning troops. This is a day for cheers, not tears. People will think you care more about the rebels than about those who have served you faithfully!"
- [Sunday's lesson] Create a picture of _____ & reaping & include this week's power text in the picture.

- Finally David decided it was time to move back to Jerusalem. The journey began & his long caravan soon reached the east shore of the Jordan _____. "Who is that coming across the _____?" a soldier asked.
- "You can't mean that!" one of his officers gasped. "Amasa used to be the top rebel _____! He'll secretly find a way to kill us all."
- [Friday's lesson] Read Jeremiah 33:8. A clean _____ is a familiar way of describing how it feels when you've been forgiven of something. Think of three other everyday symbols that could be used for forgiveness.
