- "I've had unexpected visitors come to my house. Since my wife has been ill, she hasn't been to the market. I didn't have time to go either. Could I borrow three loaves of ____?"
- [Friday's lesson] Read Luke 11:5-13. Make special friendship ____ for friends who have helped you. Write the power text on them
- "I wouldn't even have to think twice about it," said Father. "As with you, if you asked me for bread, I wouldn't give you a ____."
- [Monday's lesson] Read Matthew 7:9-12. Find the word "adversity" in a ____.
- "He & I have known each other since we were babies. Part of being a friend is being available when it's convenient & even when it's not. He's my friend, & he knew that he could come & wake me up."
- Thud! Thud! Thud! There it was again! It's the middle of the night! Who could be at the ____? he wondered.

- The boy turned to his father questioningly. "Do you think that means He'd give me ____ I want?"
- "Here's the bread," the father said just as his son came up. "Now let a weary man get back to his warm bed." "Thank you, my friend," the midnight visitor said as he took the bread. "I knew I could count on you. Good night."
- "OK, OK," he heard his father mumble. "I'm coming." The son could see the tiny flicker of ____ as his father stepped across the other family members' sleeping mats & made his way to the door.
