2. Ask yourself some questions: Did I drink enough (or any) ____? Did I eat a healthy meal? Did I exercise? Did I go to bed on time? Say yes to all and see if it makes a difference.
3. "We're waiting, Sheila," Mrs. Rubin reminded. Then she said, "You may sit down. I'll ask someone else." Sheila felt as if she were suffocating. Her face ____.
4. We were created to be _____ beings. We were designed to communicate in positive ways. That's why babies whose parents play with, cuddle, and talk to them a lot grow and learn quickly. Those who are neglected or abused usually don't.
5. Unlike electronic devices, however, we are also wired for ____.
6. Like a television, stereo, or _____, humans are "wired for sight and sound."
7. [Wednesday's lesson] Read Psalm 139:13-16. Ask an adult about the day you were born. Look at your birth _____, baby pictures, or old baby clothes.
8. The ____ remembers the things that you have done and experienced. Think of a recent memorable learning experience. What did you do? How did you feel? What did you learn? Could you explain it to someone else?

12. The Godhead works together to guide us as we live and work, study and play with one another. Why do you think God said (in Genesis 2:18) that it is not good for people to be ____? Because He created us to experience the joy that comes when we love God and others, and live in harmony with one another.
13. Sheila stumbled into class and dumped her things into the basket under her seat. As the ____ rang, she plopped into her chair, panting. Students rushing to class had knocked her books and papers out of her arms and trampled on them.
